

Of all the Court and Princes of my bloud,
 The hope and expectaion of thy time,
 Is ruin'd, and the soule of euery man
 Prophetically do fore-thinke thy fall:
 Had I so lauish of my prefence beene,
 So common hackneid in the eies of men,
 So stale and cheap to vulgar company,
 Opinion that did helpe me to the Crowne
 Had still kept loyall to possession,
 And left me in reputeles banishment.
 A fellow of no marke nor likelihood,
 By being seldome seene, I could not stir
 But like a Comet I was wondred at,
 That men would tell their Children, This is he:
 Others would say, where, which is Bullingbrooke:
 And then I stole all curtesie from heaven,
 And drest my selfe in such humilitie,
 That I did plucke allegiance from mens harts:
 Loud shoutes and salutations from their mouthes
 Euen in the prefence of the crowned King.
 Thus I did keepe my person fresh and new,
 My prefence like a robe pontificall,
 Ne're seene, but wondred at, and so my state
 Seldome, but sumptuous, shewed like a feast
 And wan by rarenes such solemnity.
 The skipping king, he ambled vp and downe,
 With shallow iesters, and rash bauin wits,
 Soone kindled, and soone burnt, carded his state,
 Mingled his royalty with Carping fooles;
 Had his great name prophaned with their scornes,
 And gaue his countenance against his name,
 To laugh at gybing Boyes, and stand the push
 Of euery bearded vaine comparatiue
 Grew a companion to the common streets,
 Enforc't himselfe to popularity,
 That being daily swallowed by mens eyes,
 They surfetted with hony, and began to loath
 The tast of swetnes, whereof a little,

More

More then a little, is by much too much.
 So when he had occasion to be seene,
 He was, but as the Cuckow is in Iune,
 Heard, not regarded: seene but with such eyes
 As sicke and blunted with community,
 Afford no extraordinarie gaze.
 Such as is bent on sun-like Maiesty,
 When it shines seldome in admiring eyes,
 But rather drowzd, and hung their eye-lids downe
 Slept in his face, and rendred such aspect
 As cloudy men vse to doe to their aduersaries,
 Being with his prefence, glutted, gorgde, and full.
 And in that very line, Harry standest thou,
 For, thou hast lost thy Princely priuiledge,
 with vile participation, Not an eye
 But is a weary of thy common sight,
 Saue mine, which hath desired to see thee more,
 Which now doth that I would not haue it done,
 Make blind it selfe with foolish tenderneffe.

Prim. I shall hereafter, my thrice gracious Lord
 Be more my selfe. King. For all the world
 As thou art to this howre, was Richard then,
 When I from France set foot at Rauenpurgh,
 And euen as I was then, is Percy now:
 Now by my scepter and my soule to boote,
 He hath more worthy interest to the state,
 Then thou, the shadow of succession,
 For of no right nor colour like to right.
 He doth fill fieldes with Harnes in the Realme,
 Turns head against the Lyons armed lawes,
 And being no more indebt to yeares, then thou
 Leadst ancient Lords, and reuerent Bishops on,
 To bloody battels, and to brusing armes,
 What neuer dying honor hath he got,
 Against renowned Douglas? whose high deedes,
 Whose hot incursions and great name in Armes,
 Holds from all Souldiers chiefe maiority,
 And military title capitall.
